RIGHTS RELATING TO LICENCES OF IPS SAISIE

The term « Product » will be used to designate the software « IPS Saisie» developed by Groupe Système Forêt in the description of rights to the following license.

The acquisition of a product license gives the purchaser a license to use and includes 1 year maintenance, from the date of purchase. This maintenance allows the user to receive, during the valid period of the maintenance program, product updates, support for the product and product activation free of charge.

The rights to the source code and intellectual property of the product remains to Groupe Système Forêt and are excluded from this order.

The purchase of a product license allows installation on one computer or server, depending on license ordered. To move a license from one computer to another, the user must have an active maintenance valid for the license and the license must be uninstalling the old post.

If the user does not have a valid maintenance for the license product, and wants to reinstall it, but not reactivate the maintenance, administration costs are applicable.

Updates to the product are emailed to the user specified in this order. It is the responsibility of the company or agency that controls the licensing system to inform Groupe Système Forêt of user change so that he or she receives the new versions.

The support will be made only on the most recent version of the product distributed.

The support for functions or products other than those included in the product is subject to consultation fees, even if there is active maintenance.

Bug corrections of the product will be made within a reasonable time, according to the possibilities of technologies available. Groupe Système Forêt does not undertake to provide the patch if it occurs after the expiry of the validity of the maintenance.

The use of this license and functions that compose it cannot hold responsible Groupe Système Forêt for any breakage or loss of data or digital devices.

Using this product does not replace the user's responsibility to verify the compliance of the results. Groupe Système Forêt cannot be held responsible for the invalidity of the product results.

The product will be supported on the version of the platform which is related at its release date (ArcGIS, ArcView, ArcPad, etc..). The support will be included for the two precedent versions than the release as the same time of the product.
